| Buyer was contacted by Johnson Controls on 3/18/24, who stated that their original bid only identified 1 unit for the engineering building. JCl sent a revised bid that included all 4 units. Pricing also included add alt for duct work. With this revised bid, Arctic Cooling and Heating is now the lowest priced Offeror. |                             |                      |  |     |     |              |          |              |             |              |   |  |                                 |                    |                                    |                             |                       |                         |  |                                  |                                  |                              |  |
