With eligible costs estimated at $130,000, the project qualifies for a $10,000 matching grant. Although the property falls within the DDA boundaries and is eligible for a façade grant, it must opt into the BID to access marketing benefits and to accept Downtown gift cards.

702 MAIN STREET DISCUSSION

Kelly Milan has agreed to purchase Aaron Young’s property located at 702 Main Street. After the transfer, the DDA will update the terms of its deed of trust to ensure clarity in the forgiveness terms for the project. Previously, the terms with Aaron were vague, so Kelly has been asked to provide additional documentation to minimize risk. The DDA will confirm property ownership transfer before revising the deed of trust, likely at the next meeting.

The DDA’s real estate committee has discussed this as well. It was noted that the DDA has a secured interest in the property with a recorded deed of trust. Kelly will assume Aaron’s obligations, but since his project will differ, the agreement will need adjustments for board review.

Additionally, Kelly has proposed community-centered ideas for the lot, aiming to create a vibrant, positive downtown space.
