Basics of a Health Savings Account

HSAs are tax-advantaged savings accounts that accompany high deductible health plans (HDHPs). Having an HSA provides you with many benefits:

Savings

You can save the money in your HSA for future medical expenses, all while your account grows through tax-deferred investment earnings.

Tax Savings

- An HSA provides you with triple tax savings:
- 1. Tax deductions when you contribute to your account
 - 2. Tax-free earnings through investment
 - 3. Tax-free withdrawals for qualified medical expenses

Control

- You make the decisions regarding:
- How much money you will put in the account
 - When to make contributions to the account
 - Whether to save the account for future expenses or pay current medical expenses
 - Which expenses to pay for from the account
 - How to invest the money in the account

Portability

- Accounts are completely portable, meaning you can keep your HSA even if you:
- Change jobs
 - Change your medical coverage
 - Become unemployed
 - Move to another state

Ownership

Funds remain in the account from year to year, just like an IRA. There are no “use it or lose it” rules for HSAs, making it a great way to save money for future medical expenses.

Using Your HSA Account

An HSA is managed by the account holder, giving you the choice of when to use your HSA dollars. You can begin using your HSA money as soon as your account is activated and contributions have been made.

You only get the tax benefits of an HSA when you use the account for qualified medical expenses. If you use it for another purpose, you will be required to pay income tax on the withdrawal, and you may also be required to pay another 20 percent tax, unless you make the withdrawal after you reach age 65, become disabled or after your death.

After the age of 65, you can withdraw money for nonmedical expenses without penalty, but you will have to pay taxes on the money. If you become disabled, the account can be used for other purposes without paying the additional penalty.

You can use your HSA to pay for medical expenses for yourself, your spouse or your dependent children, even if your dependents are not covered by your HDHP.

Contributing to Your HSA

Contributions can be made by anyone, including you, your employer or a family member. The combined contributions of you and your employer (and anyone else making contributions to your HSA) cannot exceed the HSA maximum contribution limit.

Contributions to the account must stop once you are enrolled in Medicare, or change to a traditional health insurance plan.

Eligibility to contribute to an HSA is determined monthly. You must have HDHP coverage on the first day of the month to make an HSA contribution for that month. There is a limited exception that allows individuals who become HSA-eligible during a calendar year to make the full contribution amount for that year. Contributions can be made as late as April 15 of the following year.
