Michele commented that the RFC is still looking for volunteers for the September 30th and October 1st Adventure Race. If enough volunteers can't be found, the RFF will have to forfeit half of their $1,000 donation. There will be a meeting at the RFC office on September 28th at 6pm for all interested in being a volunteer.

Old Business - (the microphone on my machine died - so I am going by what I remembered being discussed)

Urban Trails Master Plan Revision: Ken passed around a draft letter he would like to send to those individuals discussed at the last meeting for their input on the Urban Trails Master Plan revision. He asked for comments or changes. He then showed everyone how he broke the Urban Trails Master Plan map into quadrants. Discussed who and how to handle each quadrant. Each member agreed to take a section and to work with the new members so they become familiar with the areas and the process. Further talked about how and when each section would be reviewed. Group wanted each quadrant to flow into the next quadrant to make sure nothing was missed.

Ken will get a letter to Michele for Jamie and Robert to sign. Michele will then send it out to the list of individuals with the schedule of what areas are being reviewed and when. The process will start at next month's meeting.

Ken reminded everyone if they had questions to contact him.

Bicycle Safety Course: Birgit said there were about 14 kids at the Bicycle Safety Course on September 9th. She was a little disappointed in the low turnout, however, the kids that were there did learn something and had a good time. Several of the kids told her that their parents wouldn't let them ride their bikes to school until that had taken the course. There were a few bugs, mainly - the Sheriff's Department forgot to bring refreshments so Birgit went and got some for the kids. Michele asked about the one sponsored by Home Loan in August and Birgit said that the person who put that together did more of a bike rodeo program. Talked about doing again next year and what would do different and what would keep the same.

There was no further old business.
