Summary (crime scenes activity, court appearances, complex cases, use of resources, problems or unusual events):

Two Lab employees and a Forensic Investigator from Investigations assisted CMU with the second annual CSI@CMU class. This is a four day class offered to High School students who have an interest in Forensic Sciences. Classes taught by our employees included photography, pattern impressions (i.e. fingerprints & footprints), blood spatter, sketching, and two mock crime scenes.

Nine new Forensic Investigators (F.I.) were given a 20 hour basic Crime Scene Class. Class was taught by the three Criminalists. All nine FI's are assigned to Patrol. There are an additional 10 officers still needing training, but staffing levels limited who received training. Training included photography (including night photography), sketching, evidence collection, using metal detectors, and two practical crime scene scenarios.
